

wire Russia to presents itself alone in Moscow in 2019 – Tube Russia/Metallurgy/Litmash will be held one month earlier

The leading Russian trade fair for the wire and cable industries – wire Russia – will be held as a stand-alone event in Moscow from 18 to 20 June 2019.

This move is designed to strengthen the brand and make possible further growth at the Moscow exhibition location Krasnaya Presnya. In excess of 200 companies are expected from 25 countries.

In addition to many exhibitors from Russia and its neighbouring countries there will again be companies from Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, France, the United Kingdom, Austria, Switzerland and Italy participating to place their products and services on the market, make new and intensify existing business contacts.

The exhibitors at the trade fair will be displaying machinery and equipment for wire production and wire processing, forming technology, spring manufacturing technology, cable and stranding machinery, process engineering tools and auxiliaries as well as measuring, control and automation technology. Furthermore, all types of wire such as wire rod, bare wire, railings, special wire, cable and sheet metal will be on show.

Despite cautious growth prospects for 2019, investment by private business and the digitization of the economy are expected to provide decisive momentum for the Russian business climate.

This is why the machinery and equipment for wire and cable are in demand as they make the products used in both the construction industry and required for digitization.

2019 will see Messe Düsseldorf again organising wire Russia with the local partners Joint-Stock Company VNIKP and its subsidiary Messe Düsseldorf Moscow.

The expectations for wire Russia are high. Organisers expect numerous trade visitors to come and learn about innovations in the sector over the three days.
